American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintainingindissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by MR. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by MR. Amies. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.

ROMULUS RIGGS.

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Baltimore Hospital,

24th August, 1818.

THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms and wards will be warmed by open fires, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.

The unwearied exertions of Drs. Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians of the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this Institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years, a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New-York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these Institutions, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive, the whole building being now 360 feet in length.

The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.

The visitors at their late meeting, examined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infirmary—those in the lunatick asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assert with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patient comfortable: the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and with every other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Gatchel, the Stewart and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.

Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chiappi, which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind ever exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearfully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information.

The Hospital is under the care of the following medical gentlemen:

ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Negro woman TREACE or TREACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Rober Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Diggs. Negro Treace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a seaton put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

I WILL give the above reward for apprehending and lodging in any jail in the District of Columbia, a person by the name of JOHN POST, a Bricklayer and Stonemason, who has been at work for about two months past at Fort Washington, and was discharged on the 7th of September inst.—He says he was born in the state of New-York; is about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, and has sandy hair: he had with him an apprentice boy, nearly grown. A few days previous to his leaving Fort Washington he took the liberty of borrowing, in the name of Mr. John Cohagen, from a lady at that place 15 dollars, which was not known till after he left it; and immediately after he was discharged and paid off, he forged two checks in the name of the Subscriber, on the Farmers' Bank of Alexandria, one of which he procured the money for at the Bank, and the other he passed to a person in Alexandria, which was detected and refused.—Previous to his coming to Fort Washington, he worked in the City of Washington, where he said he intended to work again; but it is probable he has not stopped so near the theatre of his villany.

Persons are cautioned against being imposed on by him. BOLITHA LAWS.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1818.

The following extract of a letter from Lexington, Kentucky, gives a very different account of the advantages attending emigrations to the westward, from any we have before seen, and should not fail to have some effect on the minds of those who are now preparing to relinquish profitable pursuits to seek their fortunes in a country which the representations of speculators have hitherto so highly, but erroneously extolled. The writer removed from Fredericksburg, Virginia, about a year since; the letter is addressed to his friend in that place, and communicated for insertion in this Gazette.

"We arrived in this town after a favorable journey of twenty-nine days. The first disappointment I met with arose from the difficulty of procuring a suitable house, and as I saw no prospect of doing better, I took one by month—the most disagreeable I ever lived in, and in an indifferent situation for business: and such are the circumstances of the town, with regard to convenient houses in good situations, that notwithstanding the numerous changes which have taken place since my arrival, I have never been able to procure a house more to my liking: for that which I occupy I pay 33 1-3 dollars per month. The rent of stores is generally from two to three times as high as in Fredericksburg, though lower than they were two or three years ago.

A trial of three months served to convince us that the place was not calculated for our permanent residence, my receipts in the store not averaging a third of the amount I had been accustomed to take in Fredericksburg, though my stock was much greater. Family expenses are quite as high, and accommodations much worse.—Though I had found this place far below my expectations, I thought it probable that some other part of the state might suit me, and from what I had heard of Limestone, and the little I had seen of the place in passing through it, I was induced to take a ride thither, at the end of February, to ascertain the circumstances of the place. I was soon satisfied that it was still less agreeable as a family residence than this; and on my return I began seriously to think of returning to Fredericksburg, as we had not from the time we left it, seen a place so likely, from appearances, to suit us. I would have removed this fall, but having a quantity of winter goods on hand, I think it better to tarry till the spring, and to retail what I can of them, rather than to sacrifice them at auction, or to incur the expense of carrying them back. Though we frequently hear the western country extolled by travellers, and by interested persons, I am confident that of the persons who remove hither from the towns towards the Atlantic, more than three-fourths regret their removal. My brother and family, who arrived here last summer from England, all dislike the western country, and regret that they did not remain in Baltimore, where they landed:—next spring they will probably remove from this place."

From the Albany Argus of Oct. 9.

Extract of a letter from Detroit, dated September 18:

"When the steam boat arrived here the last time, it was on the Sabbath. Lord Selkirk being on board, he was arrested by the sheriff, at the suit of the North West Company, in an action of trespass. It is understood that his Lordship intends to contest the legality of the arrest, on the ground of its being made on the Sabbath.

"Several gentlemen of the North West Company were here during the last assizes at Sandwich. Some of them did not go over to their own side of the river.

"The grand jury were in session 8 days, during which time the North West Company were endeavoring to have bills found against Lord Selkirk. The grand Jury not having come to any conclusion in this time, the court adjourned sine die.

"Gov. Cass has gone to light a grand council fire with our red brethren. The subject of negociation is about seven millions of acres of land in the north part of Ohio."

Extract of a letter to the Editor of the Baltimore Patriot, dated Washington, Oct. 15, 1818.

Mr. Munroe—You will, I suppose, be curious to know who is talked of here as successor to Mr. Crowninshield, as head of the navy department. The more prevalent opinion is, that it will be Mr. Cadwalader D. Colden, the present Mayor of New-York. It is said here, that his appointment would be hailed with pleasure by the officers of the Navy generally and a confident expectation is entertained that he will be selected.

SPECIE.

A few days since we published a paragraph from the National Intelligencer, relative to the United States Mint and the present demand and consequent high price paid for specie, upon which the Boston Gazette makes the following remarks:

[Baltimore Patriot.

"The writer appears to be ignorant of the fact, that American Dollars and half Dollars, as well as Spanish, are articles of commerce, and are shipped to India. The coining of millions of them at our Mint, would not, therefore, insure us a permanent specie currency. So long as specie will command greater profits in our trade with China and India, than any other article which can be sent from this country, so long will it continue to be shipped; and when Spanish Dollars, from their scarcity, are held at 7 or 8, per cent advance, as at this time, our own silver coin will be put in requisition, to make up the deficiency, and will be exported from the country. We consider the coinage of silver at the National Mint as productive of very little, if any public advantage, especially if the expense be taken into view.—Our copper coinage is productive of great convenience; and our gold coin, from the facility with which it circulates by tale, and from the trifling expense with which it is issued from the Mint, ought to command the principal attention of those who have by law, the control of our coinage.—We see no reasons, by the way, why the Mint should be removed to Washington. The expense attending it is far less at Philadelphia, than it could be at the capital; and the facility with which the various kinds of coin, particularly the copper, may be transported by water, from its present seite, to all the principal cities, at a trifling charge, is of itself a sufficient reason, for continuing the Mint at Philadelphia.

From the Philadelphia Union.

Messrs Bronson and Smith,

Gentlemen—The following letter of very ancient date, being found among a number of old charts, at vendue, and presuming it may be of some service to mariners in general, I am induced to send you a copy for publication.

Yours, gentlemen, &c. A. R. P.

DIRECTIONS

For sailing through the Gulf, Southward (or over the Bank) being a near way to the Havana or river Mississippi.

When you fall in with Abacco, south end or hole in the rock, in lat. 26 deg. you had better run down in lat. say 25 deg. 55 min. and nothing to the northward of this: when you get up with Abacco, your course for the Berry Islands, is w. ¼ or w. ½ s. 10 or 11 leagues.

From the westernmost Berry Islands to the little Isaac rocks, your course is w. by n. ½ n. 14 leagues, and from the little to the great Isaac rocks, the same course 5 leagues; they are dangerous in sailing along them if you approach too near.

From the great Isaac rocks to the Bemines, your course is s. s. w. ½ w. 5 or 6 leagues and rounding the Bermines to the Cat Keys s. s. e. 5 or 6 leagues, and from the southernmost Cat Keys, to the southernmost Key of those Keys, to the southward is s. s. e. 6 leagues.

And from this southernmost Key to the Roquesses is south 6 leagues, over a bank in 15 to 10 fathom water. The Roquesses are rocks, four in number, and may easily be known at any time. For making them, coming from the northward, you will see but two till up with them; then you will see two smaller ones to the southward. But make them coming from the southward, you will make all four of them at one view.

From the Roquesses to the Dog Keys, your course is s s w 20 leagues, and ocean water all the way; but you may steer over about s w 24 leagues for the Double Headed shot: they range n e & by e & s w by w 7 leagues. When up with them, your course for Key Sal is s by e 5 or 6 leagues: about two leagues from Key Sal n w lie several dangerous sunken rocks. Key Sal itself, is bold all round, and you may at any time move your anchorage around the Key as the wind shifts. From Key Sal to the Mantanzas is s w 15 leagues.

If you choose to go over the Bank with any vessel drawing 10 or 11 feet of water, your course from Berry Island to the rocks called the Roquessas, is s w by s 34 or 35 leagues, smooth and good anchorage, in not less than two and a half fathom water all the way; and from the Roquesses to Dog Keys, is s s w 20 leagues. you may go between the Dog Keys and the Double Headed Shot over a bank, in 6 and 8 fathom water, for Key Sal, taking care of the rocks to the n w of it. But it would be best to range down along the Double Headed Shot, and from the westernmost to steer over for the Mantanzas, after making Key Sal, as within directed.

From the Virginia Patriot.

ANTIQUARIAN.

Mr. Editor—In the Virginia Patriot of the 1st instant, you notice under date of the 7th of July last, a Roman coin found in Tennessee: and hence an erroneous conclusion might be drawn, that the Romans were in this country, and constructed the fortifications throughout its western parts: as various in their forms, principles, and calculated effects as might be expected from gradations of civilized and savage science employed on the several defences.

To the best of my recollection, (for my documents are not at this moment accessible,) Ferdinand de Soto extended his expedition into that country in 1543, 4, of which there were two journals kept in his army—one by a private dragoon, and the other of high standing in his own suite militarie.

The latter, on their return to Spain, was presented to the Duke d'Alva; and I understand, when in Madrid in 1796—7, (thirty years after I had ranged some of those countries) was still in preservation there. Of the map of that expedition I have a copy; but before I had obtained that copy, or a knowledge of that map and its relative journals, I had completed a map of my own compiling, on a larger scale: one of which I have no reason yet to doubt, which satisfied my scrutinies, and which I have found corroborated by my personal investigation of our country in part—and by an evident and honorable coincidence in truths, agreeing with the results of my several inquiries.

The Spanish government permitted, as I understood in Madrid, 15 copies only of this important and accurate journal to be printed for its own purposes—and one of these getting into the hands of the British Ministry, was permitted to reach the English language, on similar conditions and views. It was from one of these impressions, in the library of my friend, Dr. Benjamin Smith Barton, of Philadelphia, that I made many conclusive comparisons, and derived much information.

Gen. de Soto landed in East Florida, and marched to the present Chickesaw country, then a fortified place, having emigrated from L'Escalia in consequence of cruelties and injustice practiced against them by Cortez, after they had helped him by the reduction of Mexico and Montezuma. Notwithstanding, the aspect (and I believe the heart) of De Soto, was so far above that of Cortez, that the Chickesaws permitted them to enter their fort, and stable their Cavalry in their empty barracks. In the course of that night, however, or shortly after, the soldiers found a pretext to quarrel with the natives, they fought bravely on both sides, but through this treachery the place was burnt, with the loss of many lives and horses.

De Soto remained in possession, did all in his power to conciliate the Indians, and detached farther north, such troops as he could spare. The left of them, no doubt under Indian guides which that great general could not have neglected to secure in his interest, made for the head of the Muscle shoals, crossed the river, and fortified 10 acres of ground on the north bank of the Tennessee, below the mouth of Chowahala, or Elk River, into which Salole or Squirrel river falls on the east.

The centre line was left as a rear guard, and fortified themselves on the south bank of the Tennessee, below Penshee, and a river, till all was safe.

The right division took the Creek war path, which leads from the Creek country to the place where Nashville now stands—passing the head branches of Ella River, the upper forks of Duck river at the mouth of Rock-house river (where De Soto's advance wintered) dropping their hogs (sequitiae signifying a hog) in the fine range of what still retains the appellation of the Soquitige barrens, comprehending the heads of Duck river, Elk river, Crow, and Sequtehae creeks, a district of a hundred miles square, where the Indians have told me, within these fifty years, many of the breed of hogs still existed; and I have seen many killed between there and the Appalachian mountains.

There can certainly be nothing extraordinary, when we advert to the Romans having over-run Spain, or to the intercourse between Rome and the higher Spaniards which still daily exist, that a Spanish officer, on duty there, through the whole winter of 1544 should drop a Roman coin, in a work where he remained on duty: but I am more conclusive. I have no hesitation in pronouncing this relic to have been conveyed thither by De Soto's army.

I have not a doubt that all the other precious relics belonged to his command.

I have many reasons of being tolerably positive, that the Rock-house station on Duck river, was the farthest northern point of expedition.

I am desirous to save my country from hasty conclusions and ignorant decisions.

I know somewhat of Europe, personally much of Spain, but more of America.

When the health and strength of a man advanced in years, and in a sick room, will permit, I shall endeavour to throw new lights on our more northern fortifications.

London, August 27.

Yesterday, at two o'clock, a Cabinet Council, which had been summoned on Monday afternoon, at the Foreign Office, (which is a very extraordinary circumstance at this season of the year) was attended by all the Cabinet Ministers, with the exception of Lord Sidmouth. Earl Bathurst was sent for express from Gloucestershire, as were several of the other ministers from various parts of the country.—They continued their sitting till six o'clock, a length of time that rarely occurred even in time of war.

Our private letters from Paris, state, that the number of English, Irish and Scotch in France, appears on the Police books to amount to 82,000, every one of whom is registered as to name, residence, &c. and could be arrested in 24 hours. The evacuation of the country by the army of Occupation will be a signal for the return of a great proportion of this emigrant population. It is estimated that their expenditure amounts to 50,000l a day—a sum which if spent at home, would give an impulse to trade even in London itself.

The Marquis D'Osmond, the French ambassador, gave a superb entertainment on Tuesday, to celebrate the festival of St. Louis, at his residence in Portland-place, to a large party of distinguished personages, among whom were the Duke San Carlos, the Spanish ambassador; the Russian ambassador; Baron Fagel, the ambassador from the Netherlands; baron Humboldt, the Prussian ambassador; Count Ludolf, Count d'Aglié, Baron de Stiernald, Monsieur de Bourke, Marquis de Sutherin, Marquis de Naildeiac, the Earl of Liverpool, Lord Castlereagh, Mr. Gallatin, Mr. Rush, &c. &c.

Madrid, August 9.

NOTE—Delivered the 12th of June last, by the Cabinet of Madrid, to the high Allied powers, relative to the situation of South America.

Since the time that unfortunate events, by a natural consequence communicated the revolutionary germ to Spanish America, and caused to break out in these countries deplorable efforts to effect the separation of subjects from their legitimate Sovereign, his Catholic Majesty took for the invariable rule of his conduct the following principles:—

1. To employ all the means that depend upon human wisdom, to bring back those who have strayed from the path of order and obedience, by using as much mildness and as little rigor as possible.

2. To seek in the diplomatic relations a political mean to attain this object. The revolutionary enfranchisement of South America, on its return under its awful rule, present, in fact, to the political world, considerations of such great weight, they deserve that the eyes of Europe should fix themselves upon conjectures, which may bring about a new order of things in its political and commercial relations.

The united efforts of the principal European powers have already annihilated that disastrous system which nursed the American revolution; but it remains still for them to stifle this system in the same America, where its effects are of the most serious nature.—His Catholic Majesty having never lost sight of the two principles above mentioned, and being still animated with a desire to put an end to the effusion of blood and devastations, the deplorable consequences of a war of this kind, only waited for an opportunity to call the attention of the High Allied Powers to a subject, which several times has been made the foundation of notes which has been delivered to them, and recently of negotiations entered upon in so friendly a manner with his Royal Highness the Prince Regent of Great Britain.

The insurrection of Pernambuco made a lively impression upon his Catholic Majesty, and at the moment when he wished to recommend this event to the attention of the Allied Sovereigns, it was necessary to demonstrate its direct relations with the general interest.

It is with the greatest satisfaction that his Majesty received the answers from the High Allied Powers. They opened the way to very important negociations, and induced the Powers to interfere in unfortunate circumstances in which America finds itself, for the purpose of availing themselves of all the means of wisdom and vigor calculated to bring the revolted countries to submission, and to put an end to the immorality and political contagion which such an order of things presents.

To follow up the first steps so happily commenced, his Majesty thinks the moment is arrived when he should explain, in a categorical and solemn manner, to his High Allies, the principles which he has laid down for himself, to effect the good which he proposes to himself, and such as might be expected from his sentiments of humanity.

In consequence, in referring to the overtures which have already been made, his Majesty declares this day, that such are the points on which he is invariably fixed.

1. A general amnesty for all the Insurgents as soon as they have submitted.

2. Admission of Americans, endowed with the proper qualifications, to all employments, in common with the European Spaniards.

3. A commercial regulation of those provinces with foreign states upon free principles, and conformable with the present political situation of these countries and of Europe.

4. A sincere disposition on the part of his Catholic Majesty to promote all the measures which in the course of the negociations may be proposed to him by the High Allies and shall be compatible with his rights and dignity.

His Majesty is, therefore, persuaded that nothing further opposes itself to the opening of negociations, upon the basis laid down as above, and which he knows to be equally conformable with the views already manifested by his august Allies.

Remarks of the London Globe.—"The authenticity of the above note is avowed. It may be, therefore, confidently presumed, that the relations between Spain and her revolted colonies, in South America, will be taken into consideration, at the Congress at Aix-la-Chapelle. The idea of the mediation of the Allied Sovereigns appears, however, absurd. They have none of the qualities of mediators between such parties. Indeed the present state of the quarrel precludes the possibility of effectual mediation. The colonies contend for independence: they have nothing then to concede to mediation. If they concede that, they concede every thing, and submit to unqualified and decisive failure. But supposing they should, at the intercession of the Allies, return to their obedience to the King of Spain, upon a promise of better and milder treatment, what security will they have for its performance? It might have been expected that his Majesty, who owes so much to England, would have been proud of an opportunity to evince his gratitude; but his tenacity of the slave trade, and his commercial regulations, prove the contrary. If then the colonies should bow their heads to his yoke, they will in vain complain to England that it presses with increased weight, and call upon the Allied Sovereigns to enforce the arrangement made and guaranteed through their mediation. Although their voice should be heard in Russia and Germany, these powers have no hand to stretch to them. England, as a naval power, is the only one that could act with effect; but what would she gain by the service? Why, the risk of a war with Spain, and the trouble and expense of doing for the colonies what they are now doing for themselves, and which, if left alone, they must accomplish. Without laying any stress upon generosity and love of liberty, which the people of England profess to admire so much—without taking into account the national spirit, and the necessity of a long peace to heal the wounds and recruit the strength of the country—we think that the people of England, from their experience of the character of the beloved Ferdinand, would be extremely averse to our embarking in any undertaking for his benefit and advantage."

Valuable Land for Sale.

HAVING more land in the tract on which I reside than I can farm to advantage, I will expose to public sale, on the 5th day of NOVEMBER next, if fair, if not the next fair day, eight hundred acres, divided into lots of two hundred acres: each lot has seventy acres in wood;—of the cleared land one hundred and fifty acres are in clover, and two hundred in rye and wheat. This land is situated ten miles below Alexandria, and is bounded north and east by Accotink creek, which separates the lower part of it from Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price can be had for grain.—It is as fertile as any land in the county, and as susceptible of improvement, by clover and plaster, as any I have seen. Persons wishing to view it will call on the subscriber, living at Cedar Grove, one mile below Janney's mill.

The terms will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, and the balance in two equal annual payments. The sale will take place at 12 o'clock, on the premises.
EDGAR McCARTY.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

Auction & Commission Store.

NATHL. P. BIXBY & CO. respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken that large and commodious store formerly occupied by the late Mr. Thomas Robinson, nearly opposite the Union Bank, Bridge-st. where they will transact all kinds of business in the Auction and Commission line; and as they are determined to give their exclusive attention to that business alone, those gentlemen who are disposed to employ them, have the best guarantee that they will be fairly dealt by. They flatter themselves that a punctual, diligent, and correct attention, together with their general knowledge of business, will secure to them at least an equal share of public patronage. Their intention is to avoid, as much as possible, retailing goods at auction. They are now prepared to receive goods of every description, to sell at public or private sale, and will attend to sales of property at any place within the town.

Gone to the Southward or Westward,

A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Basset. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

PROPOSALS,

By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker,

TO PUBLISH

A Splendid Edition of

Washington's Farewell Address,

To the People of the United States.

THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Statesmen—of men who have guided Armies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only ONE WASHINGTON, but ONE MAN, whose dangers in war, and labors in in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benefit of his country; whose wonderful and honorable success, was the plain result of wisdom in design, and valour in execution; whom danger never appalled, nor defeat depressed; who, persevering in the justice of his cause, wooed Victory till he won her; who coveted no reward but the well earned approbation of those whose interest he lived to promote; who renounced all public honors, when they ceased to be the necessary instruments of good to the people, whose gratitude conferred them; who superior to all Monarchs, was content to be called the American Citizen. His career of glory through life was sustained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations: of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and a propriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A Magistrate for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscriptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.
